13. Have you supported and/or mentored any other women candidates? If so, please list: As the top elected Democrat in Arizona for almost a decade, I understand the important role of women in Arizona politics. Early on, I learned of an organization called Emerge Arizona from a colleague I worked with in domestic violence services. The organization is dedicated to training women candidates to help them get into elected office. They gave me the tools for my first run for office. And I've been working with them ever since, using my success to help train other women in the Emerge program and serving as Executive Director until 2016. Much of my time at Emerge was focused on encouraging women to apply for that program as a first step in running for office. A lot of the women who enter Emerge are young women who, like me, may have never seen themselves running for office until they get that tap of approval from someone who says, you should think about running. And as I continue on my journey in politics, I'm proud to be following in the footsteps of other strong women leaders who helped blaze a trail for me to run today.

14. List your three main issues: With so many big challenges facing Arizona – including the rising cost of everyday goods and the skyrocketing cost of housing, lack of investment in our education system, our water crisis and drought, and now the criminalization of abortion when Roe is overturned – it's more important than ever that we elect a battle-tested leader who knows how to work with both parties to get the job done. That's what I've done my whole career, and that's what I'll do as governor.

15. If our California Federal PAC were to contribute to your campaign, does your state require that our PAC register separately? Yes Are there other legal requirements in your state for that an out-of-state PAC must fulfill to contribute? _____ If so, what are the requirements? Arizona requires all PACS register and submit campaign finance reports in Arizona. There are no extra requirements for out of state PACs.

Born and raised in the Grand Canyon State, Secretary of State Katie Hobbs has dedicated her life to solving difficult challenges for Arizonans. In her time as a social worker and running a domestic violence shelter, Katie saw firsthand the price Arizonans pay when their elected leaders fail to address the problems people are facing every day. Katie decided to run for office herself, and in the legislature, Katie worked with two Republican governors to provide healthcare for hundreds of thousands of Arizonans and to hold criminals accountable by clearing the rape kit backlog. As Secretary of State during the 2020 election, Katie's office conducted the safest and most secure election in Arizona's history amid unprecedented challenges to our democracy. Katie has never backed down from a tough fight, and she is a battle-tested leader with the strength and experience to get the job done as governor.
